CORE provider	CHRIS Kids
Services offered	Individual therapy, therapeutic groups, Trauma Focused Cognitive Behavioral Therapy, community support services, play therapy, parenting, family counseling, psychiatric services, behavioral health and trauma assessments.
Procedure for obtaining services	Upon admission to Youth Villages RBWO program, each youth’s guardian provides consent for referral and communication between Youth Villages and CHRIS Kids related to the youth’s future treatment, and completes the CHRIS Kids referral information. The Youth Villages Human Service Professional then sends the referral to CHRIS Kids within 72 hours but most often within 24 hours. Additionally, CHRIS Kids Therapists typically attend the Service Team Meeting in order to stay abreast of the day-to-day needs of the youth and to target their treatment interventions in such a way as to support the youth’s progress in the RBWO, develop skills/needs in order to prevent disruption, and ultimately, to support their development of skills and overall mental health in such a way that the youth can successfully discharge from the RBWO setting and transition into their next less restrictive community-based setting. CHRIS Kids is responsible for billing for the services they provide through Medicaid, CMO's or private insurance companies as appropriate.

Services offered	In home counseling, behavioral aid, CSI, and IFI
Procedure for obtaining services	If children are new to the agency, they review the trauma assessment that is completed early in the placement and follow the recommendations. They may refer the child for a psychological if there are more significant behaviors or issues that warrant further assessment. They work with DFCS and Amerigroup to identify a provider that is equipped to meet the child's needs and in close proximity to the child.
Other providers used on a regular basis	Dr. Jennifer Hamlin, Dr. Carole Stubbs, and Dr. Yvonne Pannington
Services offered	Therapy (all are psychologists with extensive experience in working with children). Dr. Hamlin and Dr. Pennington also do play therapy. Dr. Hamlin will go to school meetings, family team meetings, etc. and works well with the entire team - DFCS, CPA, birth parents, foster families, etc.
Procedure for obtaining services	It depends on the need of the child. If a very young child is in need of play therapy, they have found that CORE providers generally do not specialize in this area. Therefore, they typically identify another trained provider to provide these services (in accordance with DFCS). They consult with DFCS to ensure they are in agreement with the service type and go from there.
